WALLBREAKERS®

Every single day, organizations embark on change journeys. Some are looking to optimize internal processes, some are developing their competitive edge, while others just want to survive.

Still, most change projects fail. We would like to change that, so we designed Wallbreakers® - a leadership simulation that trains implementation and anchoring of organizational change.

Wallbreakers® is a safe training ground to practice decision making, test assumptions, and see the impact of your plan unfold. In real life, valuable lessons can come at a high price, but Wallbreakers® prepares you for real life dilemmas in a risk-free setting. With this practice, you can get it right when it really counts.

Simulation main learning areas:

- Leadership
- Change Management'
- Motivation
- Team
